Motor Vehicle Accidents: Analysis of Casualty Department Data, St. Luke's Hospital, Malta.

Maurice N. Cauchi

Department of Pathology, University of Malta Medical School, Guardamangia.

Xjenza 1996; 1:1 35-38

1. In Table 1 (p35), Table 2 and Table 5 (p36), of this article, the columns labelled 'Total' may be slightly higher than the sum of 'Male' and 'Female' patients. This results from the fact that where the gender of the individual patient was not clearly stated in the hospital Casualty Department Data, it was entered as a missing value, and would therefore appear in the total but not in the individual male/female columns. This was inadvertently omitted from the text.
2. In Table 6 (p37), the total number of patients from M'Scala should have read 15 and not 10. The percentage figure is, however, correct.
